PASTOR PREACHES ON NO ACCIDENT WEEK ON SUNDAY

Stop! Look! Listen! Is Topic of Dr. John Barbour's Sermon on Sunday Evening.

Dr. Barbour in his sermon Sunday night at the First Presbyterian Church responded to the request of the Railroads to announce the "No Accident Week" beginning October 18 from his pulpit. His text was Eph. V. 15. "See then that ye walk circum-spectly, not as fools, but as wise."

He said: The vast toll of life from all classes of our population by accidents in factories, at railroad crossings and in all our occupations identifies the call on the clergy to help in the effort to bring about a more careful habit in all our people. Paul gives the keyword for all our life in this regard. A man should walk circum-spectly, i. e., looking around carefully knowing "where he is at" all the time, and taking in his surroundings.

There are dangers all about us, and we should keep our eyes open and our ears alert. Some of these no fore-thought, nor care can avoid, but most of them can be traced to carelessness in the victim or lack of consideration and proper protection of the public by corporations.

Last year in the observance of No Accident Week in St. Louis there was only one man killed against 24 who lost their lives a year before in the same time. He was drunk and fell from his wagon. That was a remarkable demonstration of what can be accomplished by careful attention to this matter.

When you consider the economic value to say no more, of all these lives lost or lamed you realize what a tremendously important matter this is to the business and social life of the country. These accidents are by no means confined to the young and inexperienced or to the shiftless classes of the community. Many of our best and presumably most thoughtful people fall in this holocaust of the week.

When you carry this warning into the moral and religious realm how surprisingly important does it become. Men and women are falling like moths into the candle with their eyes open, but surely not with full survey of their actions. "In vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird" as the book of Proverbs reminds us—and even a rat will be too smart to be caught after he sees two or three of his companions snared but men and women go on time and again like birds under the charm of a cat into certain danger. Over every human path should be posted in some way the words, Step, Look, Listen. It is for your life. The preacher carried the suggestion into the line of duty and opportunity that often comes as suddenly to us, and which we should be ready to avail ourselves of. Some of the greatest discoveries have thus been come upon, but they fell before the observation of trained minds, and a skill which could improve by experience.

The wise man is he who uses the faculties and the "chances" that he has. The "fool" in the scripture is not the fool for lack of sense, but one who will not use what mind he has.

It is plead often times in excuse that one is so absorbed that he did not see, did not realize his surroundings. The plea is seldom a justified one. We are not to be so absorbed in business or in pleasure that we cannot pay attention to the people that are about us, and know the elements of good or evil always surrounding us.

We are to walk with circumspection in the spiritual world to which we belong. The greatest factor in our life at all times is God. He is our great and enduring environment, the "Heart of Love, enfolding all". It is very foolish then and will be very disastrous for us to forget God, and the heavenly witnesses of our daily life.

MORE MONEY FOR THE ELECTION OFFICERS

The note signed by the election officers of the Second ward and pinned to the registration book from that ward in which these officers asked the County Commissioners to pay the officers of election more money for their work has caused considerable comment.

There is no one we have heard discuss the matter but who are in favor of increasing the per diem allowed these men. Everyone knows that it is worth more than two dollars a day to sit around the election polls and count the votes. The work itself is not only worth it but the men who do this service are called from their regular work and they should be paid something near the salary they make at their regular daily tasks.

There are few cities and counties in the state who do not pay their election officers more than Maysville and Mason county and this matter should have the serious attention of the Commissioners.

As our County Commissioners are having monthly meetings to keep the county's debts paid up promptly they should also consider these men in the future and instead of waiting several months or a year for their pay, the election officers should have their pay promptly.

LET THE PEOPLE BE THE SLEUTHS

Attorney General Morris, of Kentucky, is out in a statement that the present High Cost of Living can be reduced if the people will report the offenders to the Commonwealth Attorney of their district.

This is one way of doing the thing, we guess but it reminds us of an old howl that we have often heard from officers who have no inclination to get busy on the job and do some sleuthing. The little job of serving papers does not make a good officer. We have often heard officers when taken to task about not stopping a nuisance, say "Well get a warrant out for the offender and we'll arrest them." That's one way of doing it but if that were all that was necessary from an officer one would be enough for any community.

Men make good officers who are good sleuths—any one can serve papers when they have the law behind them and a little brawn in some instances.

It is well enough for citizens who know of flagrant profiteering to report the profiteering business man to the Commonwealth's Attorney but what we want is some one to do some sleuthing and bring the thing to an end.

If we're going to have a Corn and Tobacco Fair this fall it appears that its about time to get busy on the job and if the Chamber of Commerce is not going to undertake it, they should say so. We believe that live-wire farmers' organization just started can put the thing across if the Chamber of Commerce don't undertake it.

Tom Russell or Enoch Grehan should invite Jim Allen over to either Maysville or Lexington during the appearance of so many girly shows in these two towns. Jim would enjoy the beautiful scenery in these shows.

TAFT BLAMES WILSON FOR LEAGUE ATTITUDE

In Defeating Good In Covenant By Attitude Toward Any and All
All Reservations.

Washington, October 11.—Blame for his uncompromising attitude toward the Republicans in the Senate who are seeking to amend the league of nations covenant is laid at the door of President Wilson by former President William H. Taft.

"What is his present duty?" Mr. Taft asks. "It is to face the facts as they are and to make the best of them. It is to secure as mild reservations as he can and in good faith urge acquiescence in them by other signatories of the treaty."

"The President is certain that the people by great majority are for a ratification of the treaty. He has satisfied himself of this by his trip. But the majority of the people are reported, even by the correspondents on the President's trip, to be for ratification with safeguarding reservations, and this thought they may not have the form of those reservations clearly in mind. One gets a general idea of public opinion on such a trip as the President's; but, as Mr. Bryan and others have found, he must be aware of taking too rosy a view of the good will of an American crowd, anxious to see and hear a leader, especially a President or a presidential candidate. His opportunities do not enable him safely to discriminate between public opinion in favor of unconditional ratification and that for reservations.

"If his present policy is persisted in and the treaty is rejected, the President cannot escape responsibility for the result. The Senate's consent by two-thirds is essential to the making of the treaty. That body has a duty equal to his and has a right to make conditions in ratifying. The President must recognize the influence he has over the Democrats who follow him to secure the best compromise he can which will leave a peaceful league. By leading his supporters away from cooperation with Republican pro-leaguers he courts rejection. In so doing he subjects himself to the same criticism he makes against the 'bitter enders' for supporters of the league may well say that in face of a great world need he is sacrificing to his personal impatience the chance of securing not all he would have the league be, but much of inestimable value. Let us hope the President will conclude to save the treaty by a statesmanlike compromise. To seek rejection rather than a compromise in order to make a winning issue at the next election is to yield to a political motive."

NO PEACE THROUGH FORCE

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is one of the greatest influences for peace in this country, efficiently organized and permanently sustained through the enlightened benefaction of Mr. Carnegie. In 1910 he set aside the sum of $10,000,000 for its establishment, to be administered by a board of trustees "from century to century without end." As described by the donor, the purposes of the Endowment are "to hasten the abolition of international war, the foulest blot upon our civilization."

"Lines of future action," commented Mr. Carnegie, "can not be wisely laid down. Many may have to be tried, and having full confidence in my trustees I leave to them the widest discretion as to the measures and policy they shall from time to time adopt, only promising that the one end they shall keep increasingly in view until it is attained, is the speedy abolition of international war between so-called civilized nations."

In the exercise of the unlimited discretion with which the trustees of the Carnegie Endowment are clothed, they have adopted the theory that peace can never come by force, but rather must be attained through the education of the people to the folly of war. To that end they have caused to be printed numerous works on war and its evil effects, and have arranged many lectures by prominent men from this country and abroad on the subject. Equally in conformity with that principle the Endowment has studiously refrained from contributing money to associations that advocate the realization of peace through the application of force. The League to Enforce Peace, headed by Mr. Taft, has never received aid from the fund.

Not only has assistance been refused to those who would bring about peace through war, but the most prominent trustees of the Endowment are among the prominent critics of the league of nations as being essentially an instrument to compel peace. The president, Elihu Root, is unalterably opposed to the league as it now stands, and has proposed several radical amendments to it. Dr. David Jayne Hill, perhaps the most eminent authority on international law and European politics in the country, has expressed himself in a series of articles and addresses in condemnation of the covenant's provisions. Nicholas Murry Butler of Columbia University and Charlemagne Tower are also outspoken critics.

If these great men who help shape the policies of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace condemn the league of nations as an instrument for the prevention of war what distrust must arise in the minds of the people at large? These experts have given profound study to the best means for bringing permanent peace to the world, and have become convinced that a peace of compulsion can never endure. That any peace that may come from the operation of the league of nations will be of that sort must be admitted by every student of the covenant.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO BEAT OWN RECORD

Flying Parson Who Won Over-Nation
Air Flight Will Endeavor to Beat
His Own Time.

San Francisco, October 13.—Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson", who led in the air race across the continent, is making changes in the structure of his airplane, which will make it even more speedy, and expects to leave here for his return flight Tuesday, in an attempt to beat his own record.

Refreshed by an enforced over-Sunday rest, 40 of the 62 original starters took the air at controls all the way from Mineola to here, to take up the trail completed Saturday by Lieut. Maynard, Major Carl Spatz and Lieut. E. C. Kiel, the three race leaders.

Four fliers who entered at San Francisco started the day today with good prospects of reaching Mineola by night, while five of the westbound fliers were within a day's flight, barring accident, of San Francisco.

Major Spatz and Lieutenant Kiel, who finished within 20 seconds of each other, are fitting new wings to their machines, according to reports from Mineola, because the original ones were strained by the buffeting of wind and rain. They expect to be able to start back Wednesday.

Mrs. Jerome Ware Stewart of Flemingsburg, was shopping in the city today.

McCUTCHEON STORY FOR PEGG HYLAND

Peggy Hyland in the well-known story, "Cowardice Court," by George Barr McCutcheon, will be the feature at the Pastime tomorrow. The production, which was made by William Fox, is said to follow very closely the theme of Mr. McCutcheon's book, including the fued between rival rich families in the Adirondacks, the meeting in the haunted house, and the heroine's flight from home at night, in a tremendous storm, to the wilds of the owner of the adjoining estate.

A great many people see in "Cowardice Court" a satire on the idle rich, and the photoplay is said to emphasize the delicate vein of humor thru which the peculiarities of the principal characters are developed. An English lord married to an American girl; a duke and a count who make love to all the married women; a Chinese cook and an English girl and an American youth are the chief types.

MINVERA STUDENTS BUY DICTIONARIES FOR SCHOOL

The students of the Minvera Consolidated Schools have caught the spirit of their community in contributing of their time and money to the upbuilding of their school. When their attention was recently called to the fact that the school was in need of a number of standard dictionaries for use in the upper grades and in high school, the Minvera students gave of their own money sufficient to purchase dictionaries for all the high school rooms and for the two upper grade rooms. The new dictionaries arrived yesterday, and quite naturally the Minvera boys and girls are proud of their gift to their school. They are to be commended for their generosity toward their school. It smacks of good citizenship.

JOE BOYER WINS 250-MILE AUTO RACE AT CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 13.—Joe Boyer won the 250-mile automobile race at the Cincinnati speedway Sunday, his average time being 101.69-100 miles an hour. Art Kiel finished second and Kurt Hitke third.

Boyer, off to a good start, practically led his field all of the way and finished an easy winner. From the drop of the flag to the end he never entered the pit.

Several postponements and threatening weather resulted in a small attendance. The race was not marred by even a minor accident.

GREAT RALLY AT THIRD STREET M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday School Rally Proves Great Success—Many See Beautiful Pageant at Night.

The Sunday School of the Third Street M. E. Church had its biggest and best rally day yesterday. The whole day was given over to the rally day exercises. As will be noted the attendance struck a new high record of 253. The following classes are on the honor roll for being star classes—every member present: The Epworth, Brotherhood, Anti Cants, Golden Hours, White Tigers. Beginners and Lives Wires. The largest class was the Epworth with fifty eight in attendance. This class also took the rally day banner for having the largest collection. The Sunday School Bible was awarded to Miss Catherine Cabellish for disposing of the largest number of certificates of "Rally Day Stock." It was truly a great, enthusiastic school. After the lesson period came the great event of the morning—the promotion exercise. Twelve "Beginners" dressed in cap and gown like sure enough graduates, filed down the aisle to the platform where they gave a real "commencement" program. The Junior Superintendent, Miss Virginia Mae Hurd then presented each with a certificate of promotion. In doing this she commanded in the highest terms the faithful work done in the "Beginners" department by the teacher, Mrs. Chas. Fist. A greater lover of children or a more efficient worker with them cannot be found anywhere. Fortunate, indeed, are the parents who can have their children pass through the "Beginners" department with such an efficient teacher. The pastor gave the address of the morning, placing special emphasis on the work of the Sunday School. His appeal to the adults—fathers and mothers—to give their hearty support to the Sunday School, not only to send their children but to come themselves and bear their share of the great work.

As was to have been expected the pageant given in the evening drew the largest crowd ever in the church. Every available nook and corner was filled. The pageant was given under the direction of Miss Hurd, and was a success far beyond all expectations. Everyone having a part gave their part well. The decorations—and electrical effects gave it a much deeper impression than usual. The splendid work of the pastor, Mr. John Walsh and Mr. Albert Hill made a setting for the tableau that was imperative beyond what words can tell. The choir supported by Prof. Young and several members of the Boys' Band, gave added interest and attractiveness to the program.

Now that the day has proven such a success the school feels that it can look forward to a great year's work. The organization is as good as can be secured. The arrangements for the children's department is ideal. Improvements will be made from time to time in the class rooms for the thirteen growing classes. The orchestra is growing and can be depended upon to add its part to the music. The officers and teachers of the school want it understood that they will not try to win anyone from other schools, this is not their plan. But they do desire and intend to do their utmost to win many of those who are not attending any school or church. This is the mission of the school and church, and with God's help they expect to do their part. Everybody is welcome and will be made to feel that the church has a real interest in them.

DENIAL OF WILSON'S CONDITION HINTED

Washington, October 13.—The question of making public a detailed diagnosis of President Wilson's condition to set at rest various reports now in circulation was to be discussed by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Dr. Sterling Ruffin and Dr. E. T. Stitt at their regular conference this morning.

Grayson said he would take up the proposition with his colleagues. There was a chance, however, that the other doctors would not consent to such a statement, on the ground that no attention should be paid to rumors.

The doctors have agreed not to talk individually about the president's case and questions as to Wilson's condition must be taken up by all of them together.

CHILDREN WIN IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Chicago, October 13.—Edna and Shirley Luikart apparently had won their battle with death today.

Both girls were growing stronger and, according to Dr. Thomas A. Carter, were throwing off the effects of poison administered by their insane mother.

Misses Laura and Jennie Potter of East Third street have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Parker of Georgetown, O., where they took in the fair.

ARRESTED IN FLEMING COUNTY AFTER CHASE

After a chase over a part of Fleming county, Chief of Police Harry A. Ort late this afternoon arrested Lee Anderson Pollitt, of Mt. Carmel, when near Fairview on charge of horse stealing. Pollitt had rented a horse and buggy from the Myall & Calvert Livery barn here Saturday to drive to Orangeburg. Instead of driving to Orangeburg, he went to several places in Fleming county carrying with him other Mayfield people. On Sunday he drove the horse and buggy to Mayfield and placed it in another local livery barn. This morning he took the horse and buggy out again and the officers went on his trail. He has been lodged in jail, the horse and buggy returned to its owners and he will be given an examination in Police Court Tuesday.

In a game of baseball at the Infirmary grounds Sunday afternoon the East End team defeated the West End team by a score of 6 to 5. The batters were: East End, King and Huff; West End, Peterson and Reed. The East End team plays a nine from Cottontown, Lewis county, on next Sunday at the local lots and they are also willing to challenge the Mayfield Rogarians, according to members of the team.

There is but one week left for candidates to get in the field, next Monday being the last day for filing petitions for the November election. It is thought that there will be many candidates for council seats this week.
